

2.1. Give the short answer:

Do you like hamburgers? +... Yes, I do.

Does Mr Smith go to Paris? -

Is he a racing driver? -

Are we neighbours? +

Can you forget it? -

Must you get up early? -

Are you sleeping? -

Is he working in his garden? -

Must we go to bed early? +

Do you always stop at the red lights? +

2.2 Add the tag:

It's a nice day , isn't it?.....

It isn't a fast car

They haven't got a pet

She arrives late

They drive on the left

You don't drive too fast

You like hamburgers

Now we have a lot of money

You can't go for a holiday

It was raining

2.3. MUCH or MANY?

MANY is countable, MUCH is not.

I told her (much / many)many..... times

not to drink too (much / many)much.....

Don't talk too (much / many)

There were too (much / many) cooks in the kitchen.

Not (much / many) people ride bikes in New York City.

How (much / many) years can a mountain exist before it is washed to the sea?

How (much / many) sleep does a young dog need?

Cars have made our lives (much / many) more convenient, but now there are too (much / many)of them on our streets.

Nobody can say how (much / many) radioactivity was released from Fukushima nuclear plant.

How (much / many) money do you need to be happy?

Not (much / many) Swiss people go to Zakopane to ski.

