

21.1. Comprehension. Read the text.

Last Sunday I didn't want to cook. So I went out with my daughter to have lunch at a village inn. The place was called "The Spotted Dog". The food was good and we enjoyed it. Then the innkeeper came in. „Did you have a good meal?“ he asked. He put an envelope with the bill on the table. I looked for my bag. I was sure I had left it on a chair by our table. Now it wasn't there.

„Don't panic,“ my daughter said to me. But she was no help as she had no money with her. I told the innkeeper that I couldn't pay the bill because I hadn't got my bag. The innkeeper smiled and went out. In a few minutes he came back with my bag and gave it back to me. „I'm very sorry,“ he said. „My dog had taken it into the garden. He often does this.“

Are these sentences TRUE or FALSE?

- Has the storyteller got a daughter? .....
- Last Sunday the daughter invited her mother for dinner. ....
- They went to a village inn. ....
- They didn't enjoy their meal. ....
- They gave the food to their dog. ....
- The innkeeper put an envelope with the bill on their table. ....
- Both mother and daughter refused to pay the bill. ....
- The daughter had to pay for the meal. ....
- The dog had stolen the handbag. ....
- The dog ate all the bank notes. ....
- The innkeeper was furious as he heard that the guests had no money. ....
- The innkeeper brought the bag and gave it back. ....

21.2. Put the sentences in the correct order. Write 1, 2, 3 etc. on the dotted lines:

- ..... the man beside him asked quietly.
- ..... a ragged man walked at the funeral procession
- ..... „that's exactly the reason I'm so sad.“
- ..... „No, I wasn't“ the man sobbed,
- ..... and cried tears of bitterness.
- ..... When Lord Rothschild was buried,
- ..... „Were you related to him?“

Nathaniel Mayer Rothschild was a very rich British banker. He died in 1915. When people die, they will be buried. A ragged man is untidy and wears very old clothes. The funeral is the ceremony for burying or burning the body of the dead person. You are related to your parents, to your brother and sister, to your uncle and aunt, to your cousins.