

AUTUMN TICKET FERRY INK LORRY NAVY GATE POOL ATTIC NANNY SERIAL LIGHTNING IMITATION GIANT
ONION AUTHOR ICE NOW ICICLE OFTEN AVENUE INSIDE POISON LULLABY FOOL NONSENSE NOW TONIGHT
LEMON

- A boat that takes people across a river or short stretch of water.
- ... autumn..... The time of the year when leaves fall off the trees and it gets colder.
- The coloured liquid inside a pen, which comes out onto the paper when you write.
- A big truck that is used for carrying heavy things by road.
- A thin, pointed piece of ice hanging down from a high place.
- An army that fights at sea, in ships.
- A door in a wall or fence
- A piece of paper you buy so that you can travel on a bus or train or get into a theatre.
- Many times.
- A small area of water.
- A song that you sing to a baby to send it to sleep.
- A room inside the roof of a house.
- Someone whose job is to look after children.
- In something.
- A story that is told in parts on television or radio.
- Something that will kill you or make you ill if you swallow it.
- A bright flash of light that you see in the sky when there is a thunderstorm.
- A wide road in a town or city.
- Something silly that does not mean anything.
- Twelve o'clock in the middle of the day.
- Something that has been made to look like something else.
- At this time.
- A very big person, especially in stories.
- This evening or night.
- A round, white vegetable that has a very strong smell and taste.
- Someone who is very silly.
- Someone who writes books or stories.
- Water that has frozen hard.
- A yellow fruit with a very sour taste.

A _____

(first letters from up to down: a proverb)