

go into the bathroom - a brush - the dirt - dark brown - the shower - the hairdryer - the towel - coming home - to comb - laughing - the puddle - cleaning - clean - the shampoo - the dirt - dirty - black - the soap - dry - dripping wet - annoyed - to mix-up - the sink - washing - the tap - satisfied

There are five sentences next to each picture. Delete two of them because they don't really fit the plot. We have already done one example.

Unbelievable! How you look again!

~~What was it like at school?~~

I told you not to play in the puddle.

Nice of you to help me with my work.

Let's go! Into the bathroom with you.

The phone is ringing.

You'll need lots of water, soap, and shampoo.

Now you're going to be scrubbed properly.

My little girl will be spotlessly clean!

Of course, afterwards you can play outside again!

Now, let's rub you dry first.

Our neighbour will love her daughter.

Then you'll be combed properly.

You can go home straight away.

I'll soon recognise my daughter.

My goodness! That's Nancy!

May I be your daughter?

Where is my Hazel?

Why doesn't Hazel have to wash her mummy?

Hazel is probably still playing.

Mum, can I go and play with Hazel?

Hello Mummy!

Hello Hazel! So clean and tidy!

Thank you for your work, Mrs Neighbour.

All's well that ends well!